Help Make Christmas Cheerful for Needy Children

The local Boy Scouts and Girl Guides have commenced a very worthy cause for the Arrowwood District in striving to make this Christmas a cheery day for the needy. Beginning Dec. 3 and ending 4 the Scouts are holding a drive for old toys, clothing or any article that could be repaired and used as Christmas gifts. Last year the Guides sponsored this work and carried it through in an excellent manner. This year the need is even greater than ever and these two organizations are appealing to the public to help their articles ready on Dec. 3 and 4 when they will be collected by the Scouts for repair.

Popular Young Couple Honored

To honor the popular newly married pair, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Norton, some twenty young couples of the town gathered together Wednesday evening to completely surprise the wedded pair at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Norton. The observant party was a very merry affair and everyone present showed the esteem with which the bride and groom are held. A mock wedding was very impressive and touching. Several games were participated in after which the guests sat down to lunch. The bride and groom each expressed their appreciation of the token of friendship in a fine manner, immediately following the luncheon.

Mossleigh sport fans hope to put their district on the map again by recently organizing a hockey club for the coming winter. Alterations and improvements are being made to the rink in Mossleigh so that an up-to-date enclosure will greet outside teams. No doubt some fast hockey will be played in the western town this winter. To financially aid the club a hockey dance will be held in the Mossleigh Community Hall, Wednesday, Dec. 5th.

The tenders of D. J. Beagle for caretaker of the curling rink and Delbert and Cleto Duncan for the skating rink have been accepted.

The Arrowwood Community Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Parnell on Tuesday Dec. 4. The roll call will be Xmas suggestions. A paper by Mrs. Clifgard.

The birthday of Mrs. John Mackie, Jr., was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Beagle on Sunday, Nov. 25th. Mrs. Jane Beagle was also present. A large three-tier birthday cake was decorated with pink and white candles.

From all appearances Arrowwood should have a big season in ice sports this year. Skaters are using nearby sheets of ice to skate on and already the boys have begun to practice hockey. Flooding has commenced at the rink and should be a keen sheet of ice to skate on in the village.

The Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mrs. John Wiand next Thursday afternoon, Dec. 6, for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year. The meeting opens at 1.30, and we would appreciate having every member present.

George Williams claims a record for this district with respect to his ability in the poultry raising industry, as a result of an amazing incident. One of George's Barred Rock spring pullets stole her nest and last week made her appearance with a brood of baby chicks.

THE TENDERFOOT

by GEORGE B. BODNEY
Author of "The Cornado Trail,"
"The Canyon Trail," Etc.

SYNOPSIS

"You've fallen over a half-dare in plenty of trouble," the lawyer told Gerald Keene. "The Broken Spur has been systematically looting the ranch and old Joe Carr, your partner, is drinking himself into ruin."
But Keene decided to go see what was happening for himself—not as Gerald Keene, half owner of the Hour-Glass Ranch, but as Duro Stone, tenderfoot in a Montgomery Ward westward outfit.
Dad Keene, deputy and lynch-law prosecutor 1910, now is returning to tell Dustin and Spitz Goddard, owners of the Broken Spur ranch, who had grubstaked him, of his discovery of a rich cold mine, and shows samples of the ore. He sees Broken Spur men rustling four-glass cattle and protests against it.

But the Goddard and Ben Dustin, fearing the old prospector may tell others the thing he has men as to the branding of Carr's cattle, plot to get him to show them the location of the mine and then to kill him.
Gerald Keene, dressed in ridiculous cowboy costume, arrives at the Hour-Glass ranch and is hired as a cowboy by Joe Carr. The impersonation of a tenderfoot is successful, and he is accepted as such by the other occupants of the bunkhouse.
(Now Go On With The Story)

CHAPTER V.—Continued

"You see I ain't done much real cow-hand work. I was livin' in town and I got me a little bit o' money. I learnt what I could from a few books I read an' then I come West to learn the business. That's how come I was hired."

"Huh! Year . . . I . . . I . . . We see . . . That's fine . . . Baines took in the creating news of boots and clothing, the clumsy equipment on the pony and he grinned into his hand. "I see you've got three switches on your gun," he said, with a grin at the others. "Where'd you buy it?"

"I bought it before I started West. All the books said that a notch was cut on the handle for every man who's been killed."
"Great God all mighty," said Baines, all at once. "You mean you've killed three men? In Chicago with a machine?"

"Nope. I done it with an automobile. . . . I got all three of 'em at once. It was just like killin' quail. They set out settin' when I hit 'em. You see I was coastin' downhill an' the machine swung off the roadside. They was playin' dumbered careless just like you was when I rode up and they was takin' a lot o' damn fool talk same as you . . . So . . . I killed 'em."

"At that even Silent Lee laughed. "Oh, let him alone," he said, grinning. "You'll get nothing off him."

In this manner did Duro Stone come to the Hour-Glass ranch. The bunk-house did not know that Edith Carr, the pretty, red-headed daughter of old Joe Carr, saw the new arrival. She was mixing a mint julep for old Joe who was sitting in his front office with his game leg straight out before him on a chair when Stone arrived. She promptly took her "makings" into the back office but was quite close enough to hear what took place.

"Ten hours' tell you want new men," quoth Stone. "I'm lookin' for a job."

"That so?" demanded Carr. "What kind of a job?"
"Mostly eatin' with a little un-official drinkin' throwed in. I don't

Helps the Whole Family to Enjoy Greater Freedom from Colds

Doubly welcome to mothers is news that the makers of Vicks VapoRub have perfected a Plan for Better Control of Colds—to help reduce the number, duration and dangers of colds. Vicks Plan is introduced along with Vicks Vapo-nol, the remarkable new aid in preventing colds—companion product to Vicks VapoRub, the modern method of treating colds. The Plan includes simple, easy-to-follow rules of health—to build resistance to colds.

BRIEFLY, HOW VICKS PLAN WORKS:

• TO HELP PREVENT COLDS

At that first stuffy feeling, that first nasal irritation or sneeze, quick!—Vicks Vapo-nol—just a few drops up each nostril. Especially designed for nose and upper throat—where most colds start—Vapo-nol stimulates the functions which Nature has provided—in the nose—to prevent colds and to throw off colds in their early stages. Used in time, Vapo-nol helps to avoid many colds entirely.

• TO HELP SHORTEN A COLD

If a cold has already developed, apply Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. VapoRub acts through the skin like a poultice or plaster, while its medicated vapors—released by body heat—are inhaled directly to inflamed air-passages. This double direct attack loosens phlegm—soothes irritated membranes—eases difficult breathing—helps break congestion. Often, by morning, the worst of the cold is over.

mind some rider on a nice fancy horse. I kin split wood and haul water an' . . .

"By God," said Carr, "that's more'n most can do who hire out as cow-hands. Know anything about cattle or is it that out of all bought from a catalogue?"

"Not all of it," said Stone, grinning. "I won the spurs in a poker game."

"You're hired. Get back over to the bunk-house and kill the first coyote who tries to play practical jokes on you."

Edith came back into the room giggling. She had never seen any one just like that before.

"Who in the world was that, Daddy?" she asked. "He looks like a walking advertisement for Christmas presents."

"Looks like he'll do for you to play with Honey, when he ain't workin'." We're sure out of luck when we have to hire men like that. He ought to do to ride fence and leave the other men free for regular work. When Frank Crewe gets back send him in to me, will you, please?"

Edith gave him his julep, nodded her bright head and, picking up her quilt, passed out to the tier-back where heg pony stood. She was young, distinctly more than merely pretty and she dominated every soul on the Hour-Glass. As her father watched her go, his face darkened. He had leg hurt him but other things hurt worse and a little later, when Frank Crewe came in for a chat, he found his boss and old friend in the depths. Crewe did not help matters, for his dark face was darker with wrath where ordinarily it radiated good humor.

"Nothin' good, Joe," he said cryptically. "We've been comb'n' the back-ranges for a week an' we got maybe four hundred. Not prize stock at that."

"Four hundred. . . ." Joe Carr's tone registered utter consternation. "The beginnin' of the round-up and only four hundred calves from more'n three thousand cows."

"Calves, hell. . . ." Crewe exploded. "I'm tellin' you, Joe, this four hundred is all! Get that? It's cows an' calves an' steers an' bulls, too."

"Breedin' stock an' increase. . . ." Carr tried to rise but sat back with a groan of pain.

"Huh!" he finally ejaculated. "That just ain't possible!"

"I know it ain't. And I know, too, where the stuff's gone but I'll be damned if I could either prove it to be our stuff or show how it was stolen. I know those damned robbers over on the Broken Spur are at the bottom of it. I know they sent two thousand head out to California two months ago to fatten for the market and I know they got seventeen dollars where we got eight-ah. They're glad to ship their cows out o' the State. But we was asleep. We ought to have a map at the leadin' pens."

"I know . . . I know," said old Carr placatingly. "I didn't have a man to send, as you know, and I busted that. I'm sixty-five past and I've got Edith to take care of. . . ."

"You needn't worry about her," said Crewe, who openly adored her. "Plenty of men'll be glad to relieve you of that care. Sam Dustin, for instance. . . ."

"rugh. If you could get in touch with him, he might," conceded Crewe. "Somethin' got to turn up. . . ."

"Yeah. Like a hoe-handle when you step on the blade an' knock your foot brains out," said Carr victoriously.

"I got to borrow money to meet our next payroll, Frank. I reckon I'm busted flat. I'm sixty-five past and I've got Edith to take care of. . . ."

"She didn't come till I was past forty, Frank. I got to find some way to take care of her. . . ."

"You needn't worry about her," said Crewe, who openly adored her. "Plenty of men'll be glad to relieve you of that care. Sam Dustin, for instance. . . ."

Faster Way Found to Relieve Headaches

NOW PAIN OFTEN RELIEVED IN MINUTES!

Remember the pictures below when you want fast relief from pain. Demand and get the method doctors prescribe—Aspirin.

Millions have found that Aspirin eases even a bad headache, neuralgia or rheumatic pain often in a few minutes!

In the stomach as in the glass here, an Aspirin tablet starts to dissolve, or disintegrate, almost the instant it touches moisture. It begins "taking hold" of your pain practically as soon as you swallow it. Equally important, Aspirin is safe. For scientific tests show this: Aspirin does not harm the heart.

Remember these two points: Aspirin Speed and Aspirin Safety. And, see that you get ASPIRIN. It is made in Canada, and all druggists have it. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every Aspirin tablet.

Get tin of 12 tablets or economical bottle of 24 or 100 at any druggist's.

Why Aspirin Works So Fast

IN 3 SECONDS BY STOP WATCH

An Aspirin tablet starts to disintegrate and go to work.

Steady Progress

During the last year or more no publication has shown more remarkable strides in the matter of increased circulation than has the Family Herald and Weekly Star. This is not strange for it is evident that in times of stress people are prone to cut down on the number and variety of magazines and papers coming into their home and they find in the Family Herald and Weekly Star a paper, which at $1.00 per year, gives them every variety of reading, for old and young, all combined in this one publication. Every issue overflows with practical farming ideas, up-to-the-minute articles, short stories together with a weekly newspaper section which rounds out a feast of reading without compare. Truly it has been well said that the Family Herald and Weekly Star is the best for the least.
